

Grains and agri-biotechnology

Agribusiness consultants - grains and agri-biotechnology

ACIL Tasman provides economics, policy and strategy advice for the agriculture, fisheries and forestry sectors and for agribusiness enterprises.

Over the past two decades, ACIL Tasman consultants have worked at the forefront of agribusiness issues in Australia. Our consultants regularly interact closely with senior decision makers in agriculture in Australia.

ACIL Tasman has worked with most major agribusiness corporations, industry bodies and government departments. That experience has given ACIL Tasman an unrivalled understanding of the operations of agricultural and related markets within Australia and globally.

ACIL Tasman has provided analysis on agricultural supply, marketing, policy, R&D, and international competitiveness. We have recently been active in aspects of competition policy, grain marketing, GM crops and alternative finance models and capital markets.

ACIL Tasman Agribusiness has recently completed a research project on vertical coordination and competition in marketing of agriculture products. ACIL Tasman has also conducted numerous reviews of the general rural outlook, of specific industries, program evaluations and investment appraisals.

See our agribusiness case studies.

Contact ACIL Tasman for further information on agribusiness projects.